

PROGRAM DESIGN

The 18 Manners Lessons

The lessons are designed to be taken one a week for 18 weeks. We suggest taking them in order, as the lessons often build upon each other.

The lessons will take you through the week with an assignment for each day of the week. Friday is often the discussion day... to close out, sum up or complete the lesson.

Lesson Components

A Standards Section: What we expect our children to learn.

A Materials Section: The materials for this program are printable from the members page of the site or have been shipped to you as part of the tool kit.

A Suggestion Section: Suggestions on how to teach the lesson.

An Additional Reading Section: Lists possible outside books with stories that go along with the lesson.

An Assessment Section: How to give full or partial credit for the lesson.
